Enabling delivery in 2020/21

Resources and guidance to support Centres with the delivery of Leadership Qualifications in 2020/21

© SLQ 2020
"Young people can play a bigger part than ever in re-building their communities and leading and positively influencing others."

The Coronavirus has changed almost every aspect of our lives.

Just a few months ago, terms such as ‘social distancing’ and ‘self-isolation’ were new to us all, let alone the idea of doing all our meetings via Zoom or Teams.

The need to reduce our proximity and interactions has changed the way we work and live; however, the social interruption of 2020 has served to strengthen the critical role of supporting young people to develop their skills, build their resilience and to re-socialise with peers and influencers alike.

Developed with teachers and tutors, this collection of resources will help you address the most pressing concerns around delivering, assessing and certifying learners.

Young people can play a bigger part than ever in re-building their communities and leading and positively influencing others. That’s why we believe the skills at the heart of all our Qualifications and Awards will be critical in ensuring young people are more experienced, more skilled, and more confident in their ability to thrive in the future.

We want to ensure that learners are able to benefit from the great work that you do in delivering Sports Leadership so we are fully committed to providing the support and guidance that you need to continue to helping young people in all aspects of their personal development.

I hope you continue to share our vision in helping turn challenges into opportunities and supporting every young people realise their full potential.

As President of Sports Leaders, I continue to be immensely proud to be associated with an organisation that puts the future of young people at the centre of everything they do by emphasising the development of their leadership and employability skills.

In the current situation there is much uncertainty and the way in which education operates may look very different for some time. Set against that uncertainty, providing young people with the resilience and confidence they need to thrive in the future is more important than ever, so helping them to build leadership and employability skills has to continue being central to their development.

By adapting the way in which Qualifications can be delivered, we are able to continue working towards our vision of every young person realising their potential and, as a result, playing a key part on the recovery and rebuilding process once this crisis is over.

"Providing young people with the resilience and confidence they need to thrive in the future is more important than ever"

Dame Tanni Grey-Thompson, President

Richard Norman, CEO
The Challenge That We Face Together

The Coronavirus situation has created an unprecedented level of disruption to schools, colleges, centres and learners.

Supporting learners back into education settings after a prolonged break provides us all with a level of challenge which we have never seen before.

"Returning to normal educational routines as quickly as possible is critical to our national recovery.

"From September, we are asking schools and colleges to return to a broad and balanced curriculum so that all pupils continue to be taught in a wide range of subjects, maintaining their choices for further study and employment."

Gavin Williamson, Education Secretary
July 2020

We believe that supporting young people to realise their potential through building essential skills is more important than ever. The five skills that make up our Skills Framework remain central to the delivery of all Qualifications.

"I feel I now have more confidence within myself and my abilities. I can now direct and lead others more successfully and clearly, meaning that I can engage with many parts of society and can help people in multiple aspects of life."

Emma, Edinburgh

"I achieved what I wanted to achieve as I have grown and become a lot more comfortable with my character and learned to embrace negatives and turn them into strengths of my character with reflection and hard-work."

Harry, Matlock

Working in partnership with centres to deliver our Qualifications will help young people to build their skills and develop the resilience needed to recover from the current situation and succeed in the future.
Enabling delivery in 2020/21

To support Centres with delivering our Qualifications in 2020/21, we have made a number of changes to our courses and created a number of new supportive resources.

This guide outlines the changes that have been made to make our courses 'Covid-19 friendly', including seven new Learner Challenges designed to support your learners and build their confidence in developing their leadership skills.

In addition, you will find guidance on the re-definition of learners' community and how this affects their course, plus support on how learners can complete the demonstration of their leadership hours and revisions to our Quality Assurance process. We have also provided some further links to more general government and governing body guidance around the current situation.

Making Delivering Qualifications
Covid-19 Friendly
The Pathway to Delivering Leadership Qualifications in 2020/21

We have amended our Qualifications to be Covid-19 friendly to ensure that they are safe and easily deliverable for Centres, Tutors and Learners in 2020/21.

What has changed?

- Extraordinary amended specifications are in place for 2020/21
- Tutor resources have been amended
- Assessment requirements have been adapted
- Demonstration of leadership hours requirements have been reduced for 2020/21
- A new quality assurance process is in place for 2020/21
To support Qualification delivery, we have introduced new Covid-19 support challenges for learners plus adapted resources for Tutors.

Learner Challenges

The definition of 'Your Community' for the extraordinary academic year of 2020/21

During the Covid-19 crisis the idea of 'community' for young people has changed exponentially. The community that an individual has direct contact with has reduced and the digital community they work within may have grown.

To meet the needs of the learners, SLQ Sports Leaders has redefined the term 'your community'. This new definition enables learners to deliver within their new community setting in line with government guidance.

The following table outlines the new community groups that are included within the definition of ‘your community’. The table also defines what consists of these groups and gives examples of how learners could deliver activities to their community groups.
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Community name/group</th>
<th>Definition</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Education environment</td>
<td>Working in set groups at school or college, including teachers and tutors</td>
<td>Leading an activity during a school PE lesson to the members of your education bubble</td>

The current climate has meant that we are required to adapt our quality assurance processes for 2020-21.

The three key principles that have been used to meet the current climate are:

1. Ensuring processes are robust
2. Ensuring processes do not place too much burden
3. Ensuring processes are digital first

The Covid-19 pandemic and the restrictions put in place as a result have forced us to change the way we deliver certificates to Centres and learners. The current circumstances, combined with Health & Safety considerations around handling materials have led us to move solely to E-Certificates for 2020/21.

Our process for certification will be based around a secure, online portal that will house pdf versions of our Qualification certificates, which will be accessible to the CCM and Tutor/Assessors. These can then either be printed and distributed by the Centre or made available to learners as a pdf.

The diagram below outlines the five stage process of requesting and accessing E-certificates - in our Customer Service Charter, we promise to make certificates available for Centres within 20 working days of the certificates being released.

Planning your Delivery as a Centre
Scenario Planning

We are aware that Centres are currently undertaking scenario planning due to the uncertainty regarding the opening of delivery sites. The table below illustrates three possible scenarios and how we plan to work with Centres to facilitate course delivery.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Scenario 1</th>
<th>The qualifications can be run meeting government guidance to maintain a safe distance. Increased learner resources can be used to support learners to re-engage with their organisation and understand their responsibilities as a leader.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Facilities fully open due to eliminated threat of Covid-19</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scenario 2</td>
<td>This scenario will result in Centres having to provide a blended learning approach for home and face to face learning. SLQ are developing key learning resources that will be learner facing and will support home learning within this scenario.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Government guidance permits part time attendance allowing only a smaller number of learners at any one time</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scenario 3</td>
<td>SLQ will provide Centres with the resources required to enable home learning throughout this period. This will include further learner resources being released throughout the closed period to support leadership and personal skills development.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Centres remain closed for an undetermined length of time due to increased virus risk nationally</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Risk Assessment

Use the risk assessment template below to identify risks and hazards that might occur during one of your planned leadership sessions. Identify any adaptations that you need to make to allow for measures designed to reduce the spread of Covid-19.

Each centre operates within a unique environment and tutors will need to consider their specific parameters and the needs of their individual learners. Tutors are reminded to follow Government and employers’ guidelines – ultimately, decisions on learner safety must depend on context and situation, so tutors are advised to consider all the factors that might affect the health and safety of learners and staff.

Guidance from the Association for Physical Education (afPE), provides some key questions and considerations which are applicable to tutors planning on delivering leadership activities: -

1. Have you reviewed your risk assessments before re-commencing activities?
3. Are your plans consistent with the requirement of any centre expectations which may have developed in response to the national guidance? (these expectations might be set by your facility, employer or school, for example).

Key principles for supporting safe physical activities:
- Clean frequently touched surfaces
- Wash hands frequently as part of a clear hygiene regime
- Minimise contact
- Ensure good respiratory hygiene

Safe Hygiene, Facilities & Equipment

Guidance on the safe and hygienic use of facilities and equipment is changing regularly in line with the availability of new information. As such, Centres are advised to follow the latest guidance available from the UK’s central and devolved governments, in addition to major policymakers in the sport and physical education sectors.

Click on the following links to access the latest information from these organisations.

- UK Government advice for schools on Coronavirus
- UK Government guidance on the phased return of outdoor sport (England)
- afPE guidance on safe physical education
- Making your workplace Covid-19 friendly (HSE)
- St John Ambulance: First Aid during Covid-19
- Public Health England: Return to School Coronavirus Resources

- Sport England guidance on hygiene
- Sport Scotland advice on Coronavirus
- DfE Guidance on community activities, after-school clubs & out-of-school provision for children
- Welsh government advice on sport, recreation & leisure
- Health NI public health Covid-19 guidance
- Department for Education and Skills (Ireland) Covid-19 guidance
Accessing Learner Evidence Records

FREE PRINTED Learner Evidence Records (LERs) will again be available and delivered directly to you for Sports and Dance Leadership courses registered with learner numbers before 24th July 2020.

The new look LERs also now include references to the new Covid-19 Support Challenges that Learners can complete independently.

We also recognise that the current climate may require Centres to look at learners accessing their LERs digitally and so we will be making both editable PDF and Google Docs friendly versions available to Centres via LEAP shortly.

LERs play a key role in supporting learners through their courses, providing them with a portfolio of their progress and reinforcing their work by highlighting their successes. Take a look at our short film via the link below which identifies some of the main benefits of LERs.
Summary & What Next?
What Next?

We hope these resources have provided answers to any questions you may have and a guide to delivering our courses in 2020/21.

While the latest guidance around safe practice may be changing rapidly, we believe that the changes we have made allow us to continue working together to support young people in building their skills and realising their potential.
